Drawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character(s) not mentioned in the description: 38, 39, and 44.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character(s) in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Arceneaux (20040099413).

Arceneaux discloses a wellbore cleaning apparatus, comprising: a mandrel (for port 32) having a lower end extending beyond at least one lowermost fluid barrier 10, the lowermost fluid barrier extending toward the wellbore wall; at least one first lateral opening or port 32 through the mandrel, located between the lower end of the mandrel and the lowermost seal and substantially closer to the lowermost seal than to the lower end, the first lateral opening in fluid communication with an inner passage (note flow arrows) through the mandrel to accept fluid and debris as the mandrel is advanced downhole.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Arceneaux in view of Belden et al. (5462115).

Arceneaux discloses a wellbore cleaning apparatus, comprising: a mandrel (for port 32) having a lower end extending beyond at least one lowermost fluid barrier 10, the lowermost fluid barrier extending toward the wellbore wall; at least one first lateral opening or port 32 through the mandrel, located between the lower end of the mandrel and the lowermost seal and substantially closer to the lowermost seal than to the lower end, the first lateral opening in fluid communication with an inner passage (note flow arrows) through the mandrel to accept fluid and debris as the mandrel is advanced downhole but not a selectively closeable plug.

Belden et al. present a selectively closeable plug 18 in a mandrel passage 8 for a wellbore cleaning device.

It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include a selective plug in the Arceneaux wellbore cleaning device, as presented by Belden et al., in order to raise liquids trapped within the casing (Belden et al., col. 1, lines 6-7).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Baker et al. (4776395) show an openable passage 30 to allow fluid flow inside a swab mandrel.
